Why We Recommend It:

- Kids InfoBits was developed especially for elementary school students (grades K-5) learning to do research. The database provides quick access to information on: geography, current events, the arts, science, health, people, government, history, sports and more.
- Kids InfoBits is curriculum-related with age-appropriate interface elements and design. Younger students (K-grade 2) can use simplified search tools to learn the research process and to find information. Older users (grades 3-5) can gather and access information using more sophisticated searching features.
- Full-text content is sourced from well-regarded reference sources and magazines.
- The "Teacher Toolbox" feature provides guidance on all aspects of doing a research project. Find planning tips – plus guidance on analyzing information, organizing, writing and presenting a paper or project.

What You'll Find Here:

- Full-text proprietary content from Blackbirch Press® and U•X•L publishers.
- Articles from more than 100 full-text, age-appropriate magazines including Appleseeds, Calliope, Scholastic Junior, Kids Discover, Time for Kids, USA Today and Weekly Reader.
- Online access to Merriam-Webster's® Elementary Dictionary.
- More than 6400 searchable indexed images, and nearly 3000 maps, flags, seals, colorful charts and graphs covering subjects like animal images, world population density, U.S. population break-downs, presidential pets, world countries with their currencies.

Getting to the Information:

- Younger students can use lively, icon-driven searching. Click on the graphic icons for a broad topic, and then drill down to more narrowly-focused topics and information.
- Experienced searchers can use keyword and advanced search features to mine for topical information and sources.
